SENIOR CLASS
OF WERNERSVILLE HIGH

DEDICATION

We, the Class of 1954, Wernersville High, dedicate this, the first issue of THE CHIEFTAIN, to you, Mr. William I. Gruber, our English teacher and class sponsor. Never shall we forget the friendly, helpful, and companionable interest that you always took in each and all of us. Your unfailing co-operation in our class projects and activities, your kindly advice in our problems, trivial though many of them were, and most of all the limitless time given so generously to make our endeavors worth while, have been rich learning experiences far beyond the reach of every-day classroom routine. No matter what phase of life we choose, or what future destiny is to be ours, we shall always look back with happy memories to our days in Wernersville High, days in which you, Mr. Gruber, will always have a part. We therefore make this dedication to you as a tribute of genuine thankfulness to you, our friend as well as our companion, our guide as well as our instructor. May you in years to come remember us just as we know that we shall always remember you.

CLASS of 1954.

Meet "THE CHIEFTAIN"

We are proud to present it to you. It is the successor to the "Octagon", the name of the annual when W. H. S. occupied the eight-sided building located along the highway, a name which would not be applicable to our present home. To find a more appropriate name a contest was conducted by the seniors, open to all students of W. H. S. Since we are known throughout the county as the "Redskins", the idea of an Indian name suggested itself, and many possible titles were submitted —Warrior, Brave, Tom-Tom, Lenape, Squaw, Wigwam, Tomahawk, and of course The Chieftain, which became the name by vote of the entire student body. To Gerald Speicher, of the Junior class, goes the 1st. copy of "The Chieftain", as his prize for submitting the winning name. We hope that you will like the name, and that it will be an inspiration to all Wernersville High for many years to come.

THESE WE SHALL ALWAYS REMEMBER

Mrs. Hafer
Who served those delicious meals in cafeteria.

*Best Wishes and
Good Luck
Mrs. Hafer*

Mrs. Kulp
Who guided us safely through those snarls of traffic.

Mr. Ohlinger
Who cleaned up after us, and kept us snug and warm.

Daniel Ohlinger

Mr. Wengert
Who repaired all the things we wrecked.

R. D. # 1
Reinholds, Pa.

I am the FUTURE, and in my hands your destiny is held. Just like the fragments of a star pulled to earth by the force of gravity, so are your coming years in my power. As the misty clouds of the morning yield to the penetrating rays of the sun, so do I unveil the mystic quests which each one of you will some day attain. May what I disclose to you now serve as a challenge, so that the realization of my prophecy will bring you much happiness and good, in a life filled with bewitching star dust and framed in silver, the ghost silver of the milky way.

Gazing now into time to come, I see eighteen silvery rays, every ray a brilliance of light, and each ray proclaiming the achievements of some member of the class of 1954, each lighting the way through a glorious future - as bright as the sun and as dazzling as the moon.

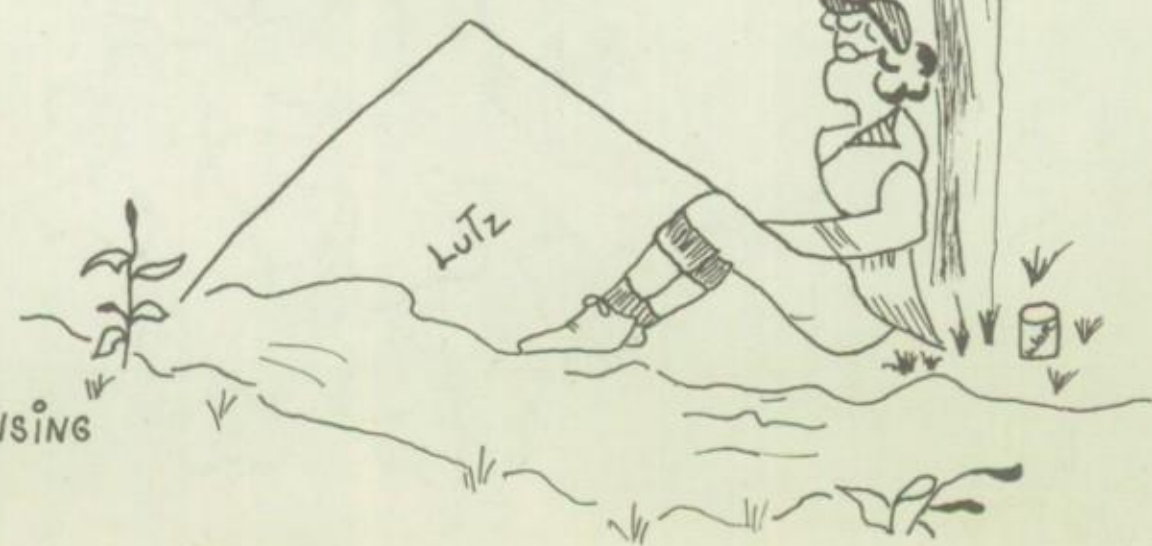

The first ray lights up an operating room, glaring lights, white uniforms, and tense moments. I see IRENE BENSING, scalpel in her hand, performing once again a surgical miracle. Here, amid shout and cheer, a lovely actress has again brought "The Great White Way" to tears. She is ELAINE REESE, whose opening at the Plaza is crowned with garlands of roses and an effulgence of kisses. I see in the same scene DAWN GRETH, tears streaming down her face, as she clutches in her hand her Pulitzer Prize novel, "My Brownsville Story". A new ray calls me quickly to a scene where I find death itself defied by the all-time great, the world-renowned, widely-proclaimed stock car racer, WILMOT BINKLEY. In a flash he zooms out of sight, enabling me to see further into the whirlpool of time. Ah, now to my ears come the spashing sounds of the waves. I turn to see a head draw near over the surface, and, yes, she's done it again; the diving championship title remains hers - the Queen of the Board, Miss CONNIE FOCHT. Just a moment, and it is gone, but another triumph is revealed to my eyes, Navy Nurse, JOAN LUTZ, who under oath has become the first woman commander of the Bumperbug Fleet, patrolling the Aleutian waters. The next ray penetrates deeper into the depths of time and lights up for me a shady glen sheltering a little red school house. The scene is so calm and serene, so like the sweet little grey-haired lady who teaches there. Yes, it is SHIRLEY MILLER, laughing gaily and happily teaching her charges. Time has been kind to her, for her smile is still charming and there is the same old twinkle in her eyes. But now I must make my way to another scene, this one full of adventure and daring, for under the superb leadership of CURT STAUDT a group of Navy Frogmen are at work, their orders, "Find that octopus". What a nerve-wracking task; too bad I cannot stay to witness the results, but another ray of light is calling me. Lo before me a mighty throng of cheering fans, and over home goes CALLIE (KING) BROSSMAN, the season's leading home run slugger in the American League. Quite a star, that boy, but now that stimulating scene recedes into the background and a new one appears. This time I see a silver bird of the skies, a new super-colossal jet airliner with DAWN REITZ as its smiling hostess. But, oh, who is this tall, handsome figure advancing toward the speaker's platform in a session of Congress. Of course, it is CLIFFORD LENGEL, a magnificent statesman from Pennsylvania. How I would like to watch this thrilling scene and hear his deep, rich voice once again, but I am forced to go because another ray dispels the enveloping cloud and I see now the occasion of a grand opening of the largest, most exclusive restaurant in New York City, "With or Without Room". Yes, the one and only dish featured is Italian Sandwiches, prepared by the proprietress herself, MELROSE KEPPLEY. They look tasty too, but I must venture deep into the frozen lands of the far North where a lone observatory stands on the frozen tundra, and the sole man inside is none other than Professor STEWART DREIBELBIS, now studying the effects of the Arctic moon on a little snow creature, the moon bug of the Arctic. A quick jump, and here I am in an exclusive Parisian dress shop, and into the salon steps BARBARA GROH, head designer for an exclusive American firm and now in Paris to find out what the fashion capital of the world has in store for milady. Now my eyes focus upon a most beautiful home, the Kindt mansion, close beside the banks of Boulder Lake. On its sweeping lawn two lovely, happy children play under the watchful eye of one whom we knew as FRANCES WENRICH; we remember her wedding a few years back. Once again the sound of music and gayety comes to me, and I see a parade coming toward me, a military spectacle; for it is the Waves of the United States, and in their lead with a proud and determined step marches COLLETTE RUTH, lovely in her navy blue. The mists now dispel to show a woman pro basketball star, sinking the winning point as the buzzer sounds the end of the game. Of course she is the top sharp shooter of the country, BETTY WARTLUFT, better known afar as "Dutch". As I leave this scene the last rays of light come into my vision, and the first of these reveals success upon success. For I now tell you that WILLIAM MATHEWS has finally through hard work, in spite of much adverse criticism, reached his ultimate goal, Presidency of the United States Steel Corporation. Only one more ray for us to follow, and this ray shows us our Alma Mater, ever wonderful and ever sending out young men and women into successful careers. Now the way grows dim and twilight shadows fall, night closes upon me, and all the rays have disappeared, only to return again as you members of the Class of 1954 venture into the sea of life beneath a heaven of limitless power toward the horizon of boundless honor. May this, the prophecy of 1954, foretell much joy and prosperity!

SENIORS

CLASS WILL

We, the members of the Class of 1954, Wernersville High School, fully aware that our sojourn in our dear school is rapidly coming to a close, being of sound mind and heart, do most solemnly and humbly wish to make the following bequests:

As a group we will to the faculty our sincere thanks for the many invaluable services rendered and our apologies for all the mental torment and headaches we gave them during our stay here.

To the Board of Education we will our thanks for the wonderful facilities in our school.

We will the honorable and exalted rank of "Seniors" to those following in our footsteps who now bear the insignificant title of "Juniors".

Severally, we members of the Class of 1954, hereby make also the following bequests:

IRENE BENSING-My quietness and composure to Geneva Staudt.
WILMOT BINKLEY-My masterful knowledge of Physics to Lee Hicks.
CONNIE FOCHT-My ability to hand out a line to Phyllis Focht.
CALVIN BROSSMAN-My superb math knowledge to Harold Koch.
DAWN GRETH-My slick typing technique to Donald Lutz.
STEWART DREIBELBIS-My basketball ability to Richard Klinger.
BARBARA GROH-My extreme punctuality and speed to Anne Angstadt.
CLIFFORD LENGEL-My intense school spirit to Gerald Speicher.
MELROSE KEPPLEY-My twittering laugh to Ronald Rush.
BILL MATHEWS-My mighty mouse stature to David Morrow.
JOAN LUTZ-My Blue Jay passport to Carl Brune.
CURTIS STAUDT-My intense interest in school to Ardelle Ohlinger.
SHIRLEY MILLER-My willingness and winning smile to Janet Brock.
ELAINE REESE-My jovial personality to Ann McDonald.
DAWN REITZ-My distinguished title of "Book Worm" to Roy Lape.
COLLETTE RUTH-My "staying-home power" to Mary Lou Berkenstock.
FRANCES WENRICH-My blonde hair and bashfulness to Beverly Ricards.
BETTY WARTLUFT-My "Empire State" stature to Richard Sheidy.

With a feeling of warm friendliness and good will we beg you to take to heart this will of the Seniors and make use of it - for better or for worse.
